PUBLIC MEETING ON TUESDAY EVENING

Prominent Orators Will Address Patriotic Rally, Mayor Beise to Preside, Quartet Sings

Crow Wing County Quota of Men is 256, of Which Over 100 Men are Called From City of Brainerd

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

To the Citizens of Brainerd:

In view of the fact that Minnesota soldiers are soon to leave for service in the world war and that this city and county will give a proportionate number of its young men to the Nation in the hour of its vital need, I deem it proper that we, as loyal citizens of the United States, afford them a fitting farewell, a duty and custom to be observed in nearly every city and hamlet in this great commonwealth.

In conformity with the recommendations of the governor of Minnesota and the Public Safety Commission, I hereby designate Tuesday, September 4 as the date for such demonstration in this city and call upon every loyal citizen to attend the patriotic gathering, to be held at the Park opera house on the evening of that date at 8:30 p. m. at which time appropriate addresses, music and a public manifestation of our pride in and respect and admiration for these young men who so bravely respond to their country's call, will be made.

I further urge and recommend; That we, as sympathetic, loyal citizens make it a personal privilege and duty to offer a God speed to these young men on the eve of their departure and that we join those who are left behind in earnest prayers for their safe return to kindred and homes; that we make the anxiety of parents and relatives our own anxiety and that we cheer those who go and those who must remain with the firm conviction that they go in a just cause to represent a Nation second to none in the Universe and one standing for high ideals and principles.

Executive Office,
Brainerd, Minnesota, August 30, 1917.

R. A. BEISE, Mayor.

On Tuesday evening, September 4, Mayor Beise named the following committee to be in charge of details: C. A. Albright, chairman; J. P. Anderson, J. W. Koop, W. H. Gemmell, Hugo Schwartzkopf, A. J. Halsted, H. P. Dunn, Fred S. Park, Rev. William Riemann, P. B. Nettleton and Fred T. Lincoln.

Patrotic music, brilliant oratory and special features will make up a program certain to stir men's hearts and to encourage these young men in the step they have taken. The meeting is to be of a public nature and every man, woman and child in Brainerd and this section of the state is urged to lend his endorsement of the move by being present.

Soldiers Invited

Every man who will leave to serve his country with those of the first draft, is urged to give his name in to the committee or leave it at the Dispatch office, in order that a roll of honor, to be read from the stage on the evening of the meeting, may be made up and each soldier is invited to report to the committee, it being the plan to arrange seats on the stage for those who go to the front.

This invitation is general and every man in the county who leaves with the first draft call contingent, is urged to be present at the meeting.

Committee at Work

Coal Miners in Three Largest Mines will Strike

(By United Press)

Christopher, Ill., August 30—The miners in three of the largest coal mines in this section will not strike September 1 as intended, the union men to leave the difficulties with the new adjustment board or other federal mediators.

Wednesday night's band concert of the Brainerd City band was made a Red Cross benefit and Gregory park was crowded to hear the music and to see the two numbers of dancing on the lawn, given under the direction of Mrs. Clyde E. Parker.

A space for dancing had been parked off near the band stand gayly illuminated with electric lights placed in position by John F. Woodhead and current was supplied by a Delco lighting outfit.

The first number, "On the Mesa Grande," a Mexican idyl, was danced in costume by the Misses Helen Kleber, Margaret Day, Agnes Cullen, Murrell Anderson and Anna Ericsson. This was a very graceful number and received hearty applause. The girls wore white dresses, red boleros, red scarfs over their heads, trimmings being of tinsel.

The Egyptian dance was also a graceful number, those taking part being the Misses Bertha and Anna Mahlum, Marie Clark, Delijah Koop and Madge Murphy. The band played, "Under Egyptian Skies."

So dense was the crowd in the park that to permit all spectators to get a glimpse of the dance, the orchestra was shifted to half the band stand and the girls danced on the floor of the band stand, giving that as an encore to the dance on the lawn. The girls wore Egyptian costumes with veils fastened to their heads and arms.

EARL GREY IS DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS

London, Aug. 30.—Earl Grey, former governor general of Canada, is dead at Howick House, Northumberland, after a long illness.

Lord Strathcona described Earl Grey as "a statesman and a philanthropist in the best sense." His active career comprised not only the administration of the government of Rhodesia and representation of the British government as governor general of Canada, but industrial and financial operations in the development of South Africa. One of the most noted movements to which he gave his support and in which he was a leading spirit was the Public House Trust company of England, an enterprise designed to supplant the ordinary saloons for the sale of intoxicating liquor by the establishment of well conducted public houses and to discourage the use of intoxicants by substitution of tea and coffee.

By profession Earl Grey was a lawyer. He was a member of parliament from Northumberland for six years. On the death of his uncle, General Sir Charles Grey, in 1894, he succeeded to the title and took his seat in the house of lords. His grandfather had been prime minister of England and his uncle private secretary to a queen.

PROMPT REPLY ASTOUNDS SOME

Wilson's Note to Pope Surprises Entente Diplomats.

AWAIT EUROPEAN COMMENT

Washington Officials Expect Bitter Attack on American Utterance by German Press and Possibly Condemnatory Speeches From Statesmen.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Discussion of President Wilson's rejection of the pope's peace proposals in diplomatic circles revealed that even some of the entente governments were unprepared for the prompt fashion in which the president disposed of a matter of such tremendous importance.

There had been no doubt at any time as to the general nature of the reply and the understanding was that the United States was generally looked on as the nation to speak first, but some of the allied foreign offices, accustomed to long deliberated moves in diplomacy, regarded the exchanges that had been going on between Washington and their own capitals as barely completed.

They had rather expected further discussion of the time for dispatching replies.

It was realized, however, by the entente representatives in Washington that President Wilson must have had some good and sufficient reason for acting so quickly.

Speculation ascribes the motive to a desire to impress favorably the great Russian convention at Moscow while that body still is in a plastic and receptive state.

Blow to Pacific Elements.

It also was suggested that the president might have wished to anticipate by his remarkable state paper obstructive action by the pacific elements in and out of congress in the United States.

Large Producers Willing to Accept President's Prices.

Washington, Aug. 30.—After another prolonged session of the wheat price committee in which no agreement was reached as to the 1917 crop it was suggested that the committee probably will end the deadlock by submitting two or more figures to President Wilson, leaving the decision to him.

Senators from some of the principal wheat growing states, including Kellogg of Minnesota, McCumber of North Dakota, Sterling of South Dakota and Curtis of Kansas, conferred with the president on general conditions in the wheat country and the price to be fixed for the 1917 crop.

Duval Succeeds General Wood.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 30.—Major General W. H. Duval arrived here and assumed command of the Southeastern department, succeeding Major General Leonard A. Wood, who recently was transferred to Fort Riley, Kan.

Reports persisted that a wide difference has arisen in the price fixing committee as to what is a fair price.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority.

Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Police asserted that in the arrest of Philip Volski and his ten-year-old son, Edwin, they have solved the mystery of the "eel burglar" robberies, which recently have baffled them because no way could be found by which the robbers effected entrance. According to the police, Volski compelled his son, who is undersized but muscular and supple, to squeeze through transoms, coal chutes and chimneys and unlock the homes of victims from the inside. The specific charge on which the two are held is for entering a saloon and store in Milwaukee.

FALL TOPCOAT.

GOVERNMENT WILL GUARD REVOLUTION

Moscow, Aug. 30.—Premier Kerensky, in closing the Russian conference here, said that, although the different political groups had criticized the provisional government, they had shown clearly a desire to arrive at an agreement.

"The provisional government," the premier declared, "will stand guard over the revolution. It will suffer no counter revolutionary attempts, whatever be their source, for the provisional government is the incarnation of the whole Russian people."

"It does not regret having convoked the conference at Moscow, which, although it has not yielded practical results, has allowed all Russian citizens to say frankly what they think necessary for the state."

Premier Kerensky then spoke of the services given the country by the revolutionary democracy, which, he observed, took power at a terrible moment in the life of the state.

"Whoever endeavors to wrest their conquests from the people," he concluded, "will never succeed, for they now have become public property."

Helpfulness

If you know how to make man better, if you can keep him from becoming a quitter, it is your duty to speak out with voice or pen to make your fellows better men.

Temperament.

An artist is an artist only by dint of his exquisite sense of beauty—a sense affording his rapturous enjoyment, but at the same time implying or involving an equally exquisite sense of deformity, of disproportion. Thus a wrong, an injustice, done a poet who is really a poet excites him to a degree which, to ordinary apprehension, appears disproportionate with the wrong. Poets see injustice never where it does not exist, but very often where the poetical see no injustice whatever. Thus the poetical irritability has not reference to "temper" in the vulgar sense, but merely to a more than usual clear sightedness in respect to wrong.

FOOD IMPORT CONTROL FOR GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Aug. 30.—Lord Rhondda, the food controller, has decided to take over gradually control of the entire provision trade in the British Isles.

The vital consideration in the regulation of prices of provisions is control of imports and Lord Rhondda is in constant touch with the American food control department on this subject.

Action arouses Sweden

Commercial Circles Resent German Export Tax on Coal.

Stockholm, Aug. 30.—Swedish industrial and business circles are stirred over an export tax of 25 kroner a ton which Germany has put on all coal for shipment to Sweden. The tax is effective at once, no matter when the order for the coal was given.

Germany also has imposed a tax on parcel post, payable after Aug. 15.

In some circles it is urged that Sweden retaliate by putting a tax on Swedish products, especially iron ore, but nothing has yet been decided. Export licenses for wood pulp for England, France and Italy have been extended greatly in the last two weeks. This is taken here as a sign of better commercial relations between Sweden and the entente powers. Altogether permission has been granted for the exportation of 120,000 tons of wood pulp.

CALLED HOLLOW PLEDGE

Washington View of German Promise to Argentina.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Any hope felt here that Argentina would support the allied nations in their war against Germany virtually has been abandoned as a result of the German government's success in satisfying the demands of the Buenos Ayres foreign office in connection with the sinking of the little Argentina sailing craft Toro.

Germany's agreement to pay indemnities for ships sunk and promise not to destroy other ships under the Argentine flag caused Secretary Lansing to point out that the imperial government had made a greater promise to the United States and then had broken her word.

Examination of the facts indicate, however, that Germany will not be embarrassed by keeping this latest promise because Argentina has no mercantile marine engaged in transatlantic trade.

TOLL OF DIVERS GROWING

Twenty-three British Ships Sunk During the Past Week.

London, Aug. 30.—An increase in the number of British vessels sunk last week by mines or submarines is shown by the weekly admiralty statement issued.

Eighteen vessels of more than 1,600 tons were sent to the bottom as compared with fifteen the previous week, and five vessels of less than 1,600 tons as against three the previous week. No fishing vessels were sunk.

Arrivals were 2,629 and sailings 2,680.

Writes It in Water.

That the ingenuity of people in the orient sometimes finds expression through thoroughly modern channels, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine, is demonstrated by a sprinkler employed in Osaka, Japan, which writes advertisements in water on the roadway as it is drawn along by man power. Solidly mounted on the axles of a two wheel cart is a perforated drum filled with water, which revolves with the wheels and as it does so traces oriental characters along the thoroughfare.

CONGRESS READY TO TAKE A REST

Considers That Its Work Has Been Finished.

WILL ADJOURN IN A MONTH

Shirt Sleeves Barred in Senate, but This Does Not Apply to Khaki Clad Soldiers—Former Senator Clapp Now a Farmer in Every Sense of the Word.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Congress will not remain in session simply for the purpose of overlooking and attempting to supervise the administration's war policy. Nothing could hold a quorum of either branch of congress in session for any such purpose and especially as it would be entirely useless.

There was a time when a disposition was apparent among many members of both houses that it would be well for congress to remain in session in order to be ready for any emergency that might arise in connection with the war. This was especially true among men who were in congress during the Spanish war and thought they knew how war should be conducted.

But it long ago became more than an apparent fact that the president felt amply able to conduct the war himself with those whom he has chosen to assist him and had no desire or purpose to ask congress for any help.

Men and Means.

What the president wants of congress has been granted—men and means to carry on the war. Money has been voted; bonds authorized to a very large extent; the food bill has been passed; an espionage law has been enacted, and, although it did not contain the censorship provision, it is found, with the rulings of the post-office department and the war power of the president, that the administration has all the censorship it needs. Having done this much, congress completed what the president wanted, and it will probably adjourn within a month.

A Compliment to Jones.

The senate gave Senator Jones of New Mexico quite a high compliment in according him an attentive hearing when he made a speech on the revenue bill. It does not often happen that a senator in the first year of his first term when making a speech on such a dry subject as taxation can command an audience of the most thoughtful senators. It happened that Senator Jones was presenting a phase of the income tax features of the bill in which the senators were deeply interested. More than that, they had come to the conclusion from their association with him that he is a man who knows what he is talking about. Consequently he received very flattering attention.

Farmer Clapp.

Senator Kenyon recently returned from a pilgrimage somewhere in Maryland and says that his former collaborator in the senate, Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota, is now a farmer in every sense of the word. "He was sitting there in his shirt sleeves," said Kenyon, "or what would have been shirt sleeves if he had worn more of a shirt. He seems to be very well contented and has dropped out of public life on to his farm and means to make a success of his new vocation."

Law Must Be Preserved.

Senator Ashurst of Arizona has taken a great deal of interest in the strikes and riots which have occurred in several western states. "The courts must act, and the officials must preserve order," said the Arizona senator, "or the people of that section will take the law in their own hands. Of course we prefer that everything should be done with due regard for the peace of the country, but our people will not put up with attempts at lawlessness, and they will preserve their own institutions."

Will Not Return.

There are a number of senators who will not return to the senate under any consideration. Quite a number of them have said from the beginning that they were willing to stay as long as there was any necessity and attend to the public business, but they objected strenuously to remaining in session all these months simply in order to afford a lot of other senators opportunity to unload a lot of long winded speeches to be printed in the Record.

Shirt Sleeves in the Senate.

No senator would appear on the floor of the senate in his shirt sleeves, nor would any employee be allowed to appear in any such costume, nor would any ordinary visitor be allowed in the galleries without a coat. It is different, however, with the private soldiers, who rarely wear coats. Khaki clad soldiers in shirt sleeves are quite often seen in the galleries listening to the debates.

From Weather to Peaches.

Willie L. Moore, who gained a great deal of fame by building up the weather bureau and making it a great institution of the government, has become one of the great peach growers of the country. He has extensive orchards and a very large farm in connection with his orchards. It is just possible that he will have to abandon his farming operations in order to serve the government as a weather expert in the war.

Home-Reading Course For Our Citizen-Soldiers

(Issued by the War Department and all rights to reprint reserved)

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and directions. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States Army, to which this Course is merely introductory.

LESSON NO. 13.

GROUPING MEN INTO TEAMS.

NOTE—This lesson is based upon the present organization of the United States Army. Some changes may be made later.

(PRECEDING LESSONS—1. Your Post of Honor. 2. Making Good as a Soldier. 3. Nine Qualities of a Soldier. 4. Getting Ready for Camp. 5. First Days in Camp. 6. Cleanliness in Camp. 7. Your Health. 8. Marching and Care of Feet. 9. Your Equipment and Arms. 10. Recreation in Camp. 11. Playing the Game. 12. Team Work in the Army.)

first division—now in France has 200 men per company; it is probable the strength may be 250 per infantry company. However, these figures for the number of squads and of platoons are never definitely fixed. A company in the field is very seldom at full strength, and it may be convenient at any time to change the numbers of squads and platoons.

The company is a permanent "team" in the sense in which we have been using that word. Its members always live together, eat together, drill together, and fight together. All the officers and soldiers in a company may become well acquainted. Each man's points of strength and of weakness are known. Outside of your own company you will probably know very few men, only those with whom you come into touch by accident or while you are serving on some special duty.

This is something worth thinking about. You are probably going to live, eat, drill, and fight with the other men in your company so long as you remain in the army. The sensible thing to do is to conduct yourself in such a way as to command the liking and respect of these men from the very beginning.

Four companies are joined in a "battalion." The battalion is an important unit in the army organization but is not so clearly marked as either the company or the regiment.

Regiments, Brigades and Divisions

The regiment consists of 3 battalions, making 12 companies. In addition, there are three special companies which do not belong to any of the battalions. These are the headquarters company, including the band and the color guard; the machine-gun company, to be referred to later; and the supply company, responsible for the regiment's food, ammunition, and other supplies. Counting in everyone, the regiment at full strength in our old tables of organization totals 2,058 officers and men.

It will go more than this with the increase in strength of companies. 2,631 is the strength of infantry regiments in the first expeditionary division. The regiment is, of course, very seldom at full strength, but is never allowed to remain below a minimum strength of about 1,400.

The regiment is the unit that especially abuses the soldiers' pride and loyalty. The most cherished traditions of the army are made up of the splendid deeds of famous regiments. The soldier identifies himself throughout his life by naming his regiment. His love for the army centers in his regiment. His most sacred memories cluster around the regimental battle flags.

Two regiments are joined in a brigade. Thus the brigade is built up by assembling individual soldiers into squads; squads into platoons; platoons into companies; companies into battalions; battalions into regiments; and regiments into brigades.

Brigades may in turn be joined to form divisions, divisions may be joined to form corps, and corps to form field armies. All of the army's divisions and separate detachments and departments taken together form the "big team"—that is to say, the United States Army. The make-up of the big team is treated in a later lesson.

Van Tromp's Way of Fighting.

The Dutch Admiral Van Tromp, who was a large, heavy man, was once challenged by a thin, active French officer. "We are not upon equal terms with rapiers," said Van Tromp, "but call upon me tomorrow morning, and we will adjust the affair." When the Frenchman called he found the Dutch admiral bestriding a barrel of gunpowder. "There is room enough for you," said Van Tromp, "at the other end of the barrel. Sit down. There is the match, and as you are the challenger give fire." The Frenchman was thunderstruck at this terrible mode of fighting, but as the Dutch admiral told him he would fight no other way terms of reconciliation ensued.

Eating It.

Friend—I notice that some of them make a disturbance when you do—Exchange.

His Tip on Taxes.

A great Frenchman, Colbert, once said that when lawmakers levy taxes they ought to so pluck the goose (the people) as to procure the largest amount of feathers with the least possible amount of squawking.

TO SAVE FARM BREEDING STOCK

Heroic Efforts Being Made by Several Divisions of State's Food Committee.

SAVE STRAW FOR FORAGE

Appeal Being Sent to Farmers to Keep Livestock If Possible and Not to Burn Straw.

Issued by the Minnesota Food Committee with approval of the Public Safety Commission.

The livestock, crops and markets divisions of the Minnesota Committee of Food Production and Conservation are making heroic efforts to meet the grave livestock situation in Minnesota and the Northwest.

Northwestern Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana are without roughage for the feeding of livestock, and as a result the farmers are being forced to sell their animals. This means not only immediate loss to these farmers, but a serious and long-continued setback to the livestock industry of the Northwest, on which a successful permanent agriculture in a large measure depends. It means also the possibility of an acute meat shortage. Herbert C. Hoover, the nation's food administrator, says the world faces an actual meat famine.

The state food committee, therefore, believes that it is of the greatest importance that the livestock of this year's drought regions in the Northwest shall not be sacrificed on the block. It is to prevent such sacrifice, except when absolutely necessary, that they are adopting extraordinary measures.

Southern Minnesota Can Help.

The committee sees an opportunity to meet the situation in part in the bountiful harvest which Southern and Western Minnesota are reaping.

Southern Minnesota can help to save the livestock of the Northwest in two ways:

By saving straw and hay to be sold to the farmers of the drought-stricken regions. With timothy at $20 a ton—as it will be in such regions this fall and winter—oats straw will be worth $10 a ton for feed and wheat straw $7.50 a ton. Such roughage shipped to Northwestern Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, will enable the farmers there, say the members of the committee, in part at least to save their breeding stock—their cows and heifers.

By saving corn stover, by putting up every ounce of silage possible, and by planting fall rye for pasture—all this in order to provide an extra supply of feed to take care of cows and heifers sent to the markets by the farmers in the drought regions and bought by the farmers of Southern Minnesota to be fed through the winter.

Members of the committee believe that there will be a large demand for such animals throughout the Northwest next season at advanced prices, and if the war ends there will be an extraordinary demand for such animals from Europe. Already Europe is contracting for breeding stock to be delivered when the war is done.

The railroads are being urged to make special rates in order to help meet this serious situation and will doubtless comply.

* Burning of Straw a "Crime."

To meet the desperate situation the livestock, crops and markets men of the state food committee are appealing to farmers throughout the state to save every particle of straw. They say that to burn straw is to burn food and money, when others not favored with such supplies are eager and willing to buy it. One prominent farmer of Southern Minnesota said to members of the committee that to burn straw this year was a crime; that on his own farm he was saving every wisp of straw for forage. Feed specialists at University Farm say that oats straw fed with silage this year will be worth all of $15 a ton, and that when straw fed with silage will be worth as much as $10 a ton.

Farmers Urged to Keep Livestock.

The state food committee also appeals directly to the farmers in the drought regions to make extraordinary efforts to keep their cows and heifers and not to sell unless absolutely compelled to. This appeal is based on both patriotic and economic grounds, because the country needs such livestock, and because they will be worth more next spring than they are today.

To aid farmers in Northwest Minnesota in keeping their livestock, the state food committee suggests:

The cutting of all hay possible.

The saving of corn fodder, straw and rye.

The use of fall pastures.

The feeding of root crops.

The purchase of hay and straw from other parts of the state.

The utmost care to avoid waste in feeding.

Pressure is being brought to bear on bankers, merchants, railroads and commercial interests to assist the farmers in solving the problem of bringing livestock and forage together for the saving of breeding stock, that the livestock industry of the Northwest may not suffer a catastrophe.

SICKNESS CAUSE OF HER RASH ACT

Mrs. Freeman C. Dunbar of Northeast Brainerd Takes Own Life in Barn at Home

THE BODY FOUND BY HUSBAND

Swaying From Rafter in Second Story of Barn, Couple Had No Children

Mrs. Freeman C. Dunbar, age 27, of 505 Northeast Pine street, committed suicide this morning by hanging herself in the barn in the rear of her home.

Despondency caused by illness and worry over the call of two brothers into army service are believed to have been the cause of her rash act.

The body was found at 5:30 in the morning by her husband, as it was swinging from a bracket of a cross beam. She had taken a section of clothes line, flung it about the beam bracket, then standing on a box, had kicked the same away and met death.

She was not at home during the night, having gone with the children of Mrs. Howard Kitchen to see their mother who is recovering from an operation and is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital.

When she did not return, Mr. Dunbar thought she had stayed at the Kitchen home for the night. She had been ailing for some time and it was feared that Mrs. Dunbar would have to be operated on again a second time. She is survived by her husband. They had no children.

Mr. Dunbar came from Canada and his wife was formerly from Dakota. They previously lived on the north side in Brainerd. When Mr. Kitchen was promoted to a position in South Tacoma, Wash., Mr. Dunbar was given the place made vacant in the store room of the N. P. railway shops formerly held by Mr. Kitchen.

When her two brothers were called to service, she worried much as her aged father was the only main stay left for a large family of which she was the only daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar were members of the First Baptist church and it is believed she held membership in a fraternal order, the Rebekahs.

The sympathy is extended to the family in its sad bereavement.

She is one of the E. H. Berg's violin school twice-a-week scholars and her friends out west were surprised at the competent teacher she had at Brainerd, considering that she has hardly studied a term with Mr. Berg.

BRAINERD PUBLIC MARKET OPENS SAT.

P. B. Nettleton Describes Plans and Aims of the New Frost in Brainerd

HEADQUARTERS GARDNER BLK.

Farmers, Truck Gardeners and Others Invited to Bring in Produce to be Sold For Cash

The movement inaugurated by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce to establish a public market in Brainerd has resulted in the decision of the special committees representing the Chamber, city, county and Business Men's association, to give the matter at least a "try out" and thus settle the question whether the people in both the city and county want it and will make an active effort to make it success.

To be successful, two things are absolutely necessary. First that the produce be brought in to sell; second, that buyers will come in and buy what is offered. This movement starts with no capital and is intended to be self-sustaining.

The Chamber of Commerce has appropriated $60 towards the rent of two store rooms in the Gardner block. Senator George H. Gardner has generously offered to furnish these two rooms and basement free for two months. The committee has accepted this offer with thanks and arranged to rent the same for two months more for the nominal sum of $30 a month. This provides a plan for four months or to January 1st. By that time we ought to know whether the people want it continued or not.

A public spirited active manager has been put in charge and his compensation agreed upon for the month to start with. A small fee of 5 per cent on all sales will be charged to help pay sundry necessary expenses including the manager. The market is now open for business.

Next Saturday will, however, be the opening day. Farmers, truck gardeners and others who have produce to sell direct to the consumer for cash are invited to bring in their "stuff." Samples of potatoes and other produce that can be sold by sample, they may list what they have for sale at home. Buyers will register their wants. The manager will try to see that these wants are supplied.

Farmers are asked to use the telephone freely for further information, also to read the papers. Remember this is only a start, details will be worked out as fast as practicable and improvements made. No one connected with this market business expects any pay, except the manager and he mighty little to start with.

The ladies' societies, farmer clubs and everybody are invited to lend a hand and push this market experiment along.

Criticisms and helpful suggestions are welcome—Knockers may take the back seat or go out the back door. Large streams from little fountains flow. Great oaks from little acorns grow. It is earnestly hoped that large markets both retail and wholesale, may grow from the small seed now germinating and known as the Brainerd Public Market.

P. B. NETTLETON, Chairman C. of C. Special Market Committee.

To Prevent Old Age Coming Too Soon!

"Toxic poisons in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such products. If we wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase our chances for a long life, we should drink plenty of pure water and take a little Anuric," says the world-famed Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little Anuric from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it thirty-seven times more potent than lithia, and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.
